Hartmetallwerk Immelborn. [redacted] VEB the former Krupp firm, located in buildings which belonged to the Firma Schmoele, was not dismantled by the Soviets but was maintained as an SAG (Soviet-controlled enterprise). In 1954, approximately 800 ~~persons~~ were employed at the enterprise, which produced, during 1954, 156 tons of Harith (Widia Hartmetall); 50 tons were for Wismut, 30 tons for export to other Satellites, and the remainder (about 50 percent) for domestic use. During 1955, only about 110 tons are expected to be produced, of which some 45 tons will be allocated to Wismut. The Immelborn enterprise also produces sinter magnets for East German high-frequency equipment.
